

Certificate of Need

Attorneys

Adam Carter Rose

The firm has a long history of helping clients in determining whether Certificate of Need (CON) approval in Connecticut is necessary and, if so, working with clients to obtain CON approval. We assist in developing market strategies that respect the CON laws and, when necessary, file CON determination requests with respect to innovative projects with the Office of Health Strategy. We also counsel and represent providers affected by the CON proposals of other market participants, which may include filing for either party or intervenor status in the CON proceedings.
